

COMMUNICATION DURING A DISASTER

To report an emergency:

Call 911

If your phone does not work, try a neighbor's phone.

If no working land line phone, try a cell phone.

If no phone available

Go to a fire station and report the emergency.

If life-threatening

Medical emergency

Go directly to a hospital. Do not waste time trying to call for help.

To get information during a disaster:

Turn on the television or radio to a local station. Use battery operated radio if electricity is out.

Emergency personnel may be canvassing the area to provide emergency direction and scouring for damage and casualties.

Do not make unnecessary phone calls. The system overload will prevent emergency calls.

WHEN YOU RECEIVE RELIABLE INFORMATION, SHARE IT WITH YOUR NEIGHBORS.
